Report of Performance of students on various assessment tasks

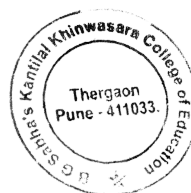

Students enter college from diverse backgrounds and are completely unfamiliar with the subject of pedagogy at the time of entry. They have lack of knowledge about microteaching. Blackboard writing, speaking confidently, stage daring etc. After successful completion of integrated lessons, conceptual lessons, innovative lessons, their confidence in taking practice lessons is seen to increase greatly, their performance during internship service is commendable.

Various courses in B.Ed. program are useful for the students such as Student Growth and Development from Course 101, Various Educational Commissions and Policies from course 102, Teaching Learning Process from course 103, Evaluation Process from course 104, Effective Use of ICT in Education from course 105 and knowledge of various teaching methods in teaching students in school helps to students, It is also useful to become a future teacher. During the period of internship students devote themselves fully and perform well in all school activities. By seeing the performance of the students in the school, the principal of the school provides them with job opportunities. Participation in ICT community service and cultural events etc. increases the confidence of students to a great extent.

In the second year B.Ed., the knowledge gained in the subjects of Educational Management, Knowledge and Curriculum. Inclusive Education, Guidance and Counseling during the four months of student service is applied and reflected in the student's performance. The subjects of B.Ed. curriculum are aimed at enhancing professional competence, these subjects are applicable to the students in their personal life as well, and these subjects fulfill the study needs of the students and also give them scope to do various innovative things.

The knowledge imparted to students in two years of B.Ed. not only helps them in B.Ed. duration but also helps them to become a teacher in the future. It is noticed that the study needs of the students are met systematically through the evaluation process implemented in various courses.

A big change can be seen between a student entering B.Ed. first year and a student passing out from B.Ed. Thus, their performance on the various assessment tasks of the students reflects that all the learning needs of the students have been completed.

Reports for Lagging Behind Students F.Y.B.Ed. and S.Y. B.Ed.

Some of the students who take admission in the college every year have low academic ability; such students need counseling and guidance on a personal level. Everyone has different reasons for falling behind in studies. For example, personal reasons, financial reasons, family reasons, psychological reasons etc.

It helps to identify such students from the group, of course through interaction with students, observation and personal interaction Students lagging behind in studies are brought forward through individual counseling and guidance. This will be more noticeable through the following 3 case study.

- 1) Kalyani chaudhari : In 2023, a student named Kalyani Chaudhari was suffering from mental problems and it was observed that she lacked confidence, but gradually through the interaction of the teachers in the group, her confidence increased and she also got good results in studies.
- 2) Swati Shinde : A student studying in 2023, Swati shinde was also lagging behind in her studies due to mental reasons, but with the interaction and guidance of the group head, she progressed in her studies.
- 3) kavita Gaikwad : In 2023, this student was studying in college. She used to have low self-confidence, any time she cried for any reason, but with counseling and personal guidance, this student also progressed in her studies.

In this way, the students who are lagging behind in studies get proper guidance from the college and their study ability increases and their result also improves.
