Waste control in entire campus:

This initiative aims to manage waste effectively across the entire campus to promote environmental sustainability and hygiene. Its mission is to implement comprehensive waste control measures, including segregation, recycling, and proper disposal of both solid and liquid waste. By maintaining rigorous waste management protocols, the initiative seeks to minimize waste generation, reduce landfill contributions, and foster a cleaner and healthier campus environment. This effort will contribute to a more sustainable campus and support public health by reducing the risk of waste-related issues.

Save Water:

Save water: Student teachers are often the first people to notice leaks around campus. Report leaking faucets, running toilets, faulty hoses, or broken water fountains. A single dripping faucet can waste 100 gallons of water a day. Reporting leaks and following up to make sure they are fixed is one of the most effective ways individual students can save water at college.
